Introduction.

Nations, states, islands & companies can buy and sell goods on other marketplaces thanks to international trade. This trade may result in a wider variety of products and services available to domestic clients. It permits development and growth while eliminating the risks associated with internal R&D. There are certain disadvantages to trading. Instead of importing products and services, a country can profit by exporting them. It can also be utilized to compete with domestic industries by using lower but no less valuable items.

What is Global Trade, exactly?

The exchange of commodities and services across international borders is known as international trade. To be more explicit, it alludes to the exporting and importation of products and services. In contrast to import, which refers to the transfer of goods into the nation, export denotes the sale of goods and services beyond the country.

The three major types of international trade are export, import and outlet trade. Trade in exports and imports has already been covered. Entrepot trading, commonly referred to as re-export, combines import and export trade. It involves importing goods from one country, giving them value-adding, and exporting them to another.

The Advantages of Global Trade.

1. Benefits of Specialization And Labor Division.

It is advantages in several ways. The division of labor and the resulting specialization are significant benefits. Different sorts of producing agents are found in other geographical areas. Specializing in manufacturing those items for which their factor equipment is best suited is advantages for any nation or region.

For instance, Britain is blessed with coal and iron ore. oil resources in middle eastern nations. South East Asian nations: tin, rubber, tea, India, Sri Lanka.

Therefore, nations with a distinct advantage over a particular good can specialize in producing it and trade it for a superior good from a different country. Import, as it is less expensive than making that.

2. The Accessibility And Affordability Of goods.

Consumers can get foreign items at lesser costs thanks to international trade. Foreign goods are typically imported due to their greater affordability than native goods prices.

3. Prominent Production.

Specialization allows for the optimal utilization of production elements. The greater output will be achieved by discipline, large-scale production, and the introduction of machinery. Additionally, it increases their demand and consumption, which promotes further discipline and lowers the cost of goods and services globally.

b) NEGOTIATION AND DIFFERENT APPROACHES TO NEGOTIATION

Negotiation is the dominant element in all Alternate Dispute Resolution techniques. It is a system where the parties themselves try to resolve the ~~conflict~~ without the involvement of 3rd neutral party.

According to Nelson Mandela,
'Negotiation and discussion are the greatest weapons we have for promoting peace and development.'

Negotiation is a process of dispute resolution between the parties without the involvement of ~~neutral~~ 3rd part person. It is a voluntary non-binding communication process to resolve conflicts where parties control the outcome and procedure and who have is chance of wide range of solutions.

Characteristics of Negotiation

1) Communication process :-

Negotiation takes place through communication between both parties where they themselves try and find a solution.

2) Resolving Conflicts :-

The disputed parties try to resolve the conflicts through negotiation without intervention of 3rd party.

3) Voluntary :-

The parties voluntarily go for negotiation as it is cost-effective and also not so time consuming.

4) Non-binding :-

It is not necessary that whatever they decide are binding on the parties. They have to sign an agreement to make settlement binding.

5) Parties control the outcome and procedure :-

Since there is no law to regulate negotiation procedure, the parties themselves have control over the entire procedure that takes place and hence they control the outcome too.

a) Wide range of Solution and Maximise joint gains :-

Since there is no formal procedure, there is a possibility of wide-range of solutions. Sometimes, these solutions may lead to maximising the gains of both the parties.

Styles / Approaches of Negotiation

The parties incorporate various negotiation strategies. The style or approach of a party is evident through their language, communication skills, the way they bargain, etc. The 2 styles of Negotiation are:-

(i) Cooperative Style :-

¶ In this style of negotiation, the parties mutually understand each other's rights and their interests and try to settle the dispute in a cooperative manner.

(ii) Competitive Style :-

Here, the party tries to protect its interest and attacks the other party so as to gain whatever he wants to achieve through the negotiation process.

The five kinds of approaches in negotiation are :-

(i) Avoidance :-

Here, the situation is like - 'I lose You lose'. The parties do not talk about the issue directly. They talk about the issue in a vague manner. They don't want to solve the issue. It is like they want to postpone it or not interfere with it. The party neither protects his interest nor the interest of other party.

(ii) Accommodation :-

Here, the situation is like 'I lose You Win'. One of the party wants to better the relationship and foster the relations by sacrificing his interest in the favour of other party. The party which sacrifices its interest is called accommodator.

(iii) Competitive :-

Here, the situation is like 'I Win You Lose'. The party wants to protect its interest at any cost. It does not want to concede its interest to settle the dispute or resolve conflict. The party which wants to protect its interest is called competitor. It is for achieving short-term goal.

(iv) Compromise :-

Here, the situation is like 'I win some and lose some; You win some and lose some'. It is a situation where the parties split the difference. Both the parties are ready for concessions that is lose something for gaining some other thing. It is in middle of ascertaining and sacrificing. The party is conflictor as well as accommodator.

(v) Collaborate :-

Here, the situation is 'Win-Win'. Both the parties gain after the settlement of the conflict or after resolving dispute. This is an ideal negotiation. It is seen in Integrative type of negotiation.

So, these are the various styles or approaches to negotiation process. There is no particular criteria for choosing a style or approach. It depends upon the situation.

c) MEDIATION AND ESSENTIAL CHARACTERISTICS

Mediation is a process whereby the parties to a dispute try to resolve it in the presence of neutral 3rd person. The role of the mediator varies according to various kinds of mediation. It is a voluntary non-binding procedure where the parties settle the dispute or resolve conflict with the help of neutral 3rd person.

Mediation is of various kinds. Sometimes it is mandatory according to a statute or it may be private mediation where the parties themselves appoint mediator or Court ordered mediation where the parties have to go for mediation, etc.

Mediation is helpful in resolving the disputes of the party in case of family matters, etc. The mediator sometimes counsels the parties and takes breaks the parties privately so as to learn about the dispute and sometimes, such private conversations with the parties helps in resolving the dispute or its conflicts. The parties have the ultimate decision making power and have control over the entire mediation process.

INTRODUCTION

The term Negotiation refers to a strategic discussion intended to resolve an issue in a way that both parties find acceptable. Negotiations involve give and take, which means one or both parties will usually need to make some concessions.

Negotiations involve two or more parties who come together to reach some end goal that is agreeable to all those involved. One party will put its position forward, while the other will either accept the conditions presented or counter with its own position. The process continues until both parties agree to a resolution or negotiations break off without one.

The various stages of Negotiation are :-

- 1) Preparation
- 2) Exchanging Information
- 3) Bargaining
- 4) Closing the Deal.

INTRODUCTION

Conciliation is a form of Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR), in which an impartial third party, called Conciliator, helps two or more parties in a dispute to reach a mutually agreeable settlement. The Conciliator does not impose a solution, rather facilitates communication and negotiation between them.

Conciliation is often used to resolve dispute in a variety of settings, including business employment, family law and criminal law. It can be a helpful way to resolve disputes quickly and cost effectively, and it can also help preserve relationships between the parties.

Conciliation is a voluntary process, and the parties can withdraw from it at any time. It is also confidential, meaning that the discussions that take place during the conciliation process are not disclosed to the parties.

STATEMENT OF CLAIMS

(From the Counsel Adv. Flavvisha, Mr. Manohar, Mrs. Disha, Ms. Vaishaka, Ms. Chaitra)

I, Manohar Shetty, s/o Dayanand Shetty, r/o Mangaluru and Mr. Bharath Shetty, Mr. Ajith, Ms. Suran, Ms. Reshma are representatives of Hindu Joint family; headed by the deceased Kartha. After the death of our parents in an unavoidable circumstances accident, I, Manohar, the eldest son became Kartha by default at the age of 18. The other siblings were of age 11, 9, 7 and 4 respectively. The family properties were equally divided among all the representatives; the dwelling house, 8 ~~acres~~ agricultural land and shopping complex.

I had to put an end to my ~~studies~~ in order to take care of the property left behind by our parents. I also had the responsibility of upbringing my siblings. I raised them with utmost love, care and affection. I realised that his siblings lacked mother's love and care, and so I got married at age of 21 to Ms. Disha and shared the responsibility with my wife. I and my wife were the father and mother to their siblings. Later we had our own children; Chaitra and Vaishaka. We never let the siblings know their difficulties as we did not want to burden them. I even opened a sawing factory to help our household. I married two of my siblings (Bharat and Ajit) and supported all my siblings in studies and to pursue their careers. My wife had to resign her job to look after my siblings. My elder daughter is working as an engineer and younger daughter is pursuing MBBS through education loan.

In a while, Mr. Bharath, my ^{1st} younger brother started helping in managing the properties. I gave all my siblings equal amount of money for their shares in dwelling house and kept the house as my own property. After sometime the sewing factory was forced to shut down due to lack of demand, as a result my health deteriorated as I suffered from severe heart attack; after which I had trouble moving and I had to depend on the income from shopping complex and my elder daughter's salary.

Prayer:- As Mr. Manohar is facing difficulty in maintaining and managing the household due to his inability to work and health issues. Now as he is in his most difficult situation, he seeks more share in property from all his siblings as he took great care of them until they were financially independent.

COURT PROCEDURE

The matter seeking more shares in joint family property was taken before the Hon'ble court by Mr. Manohar through his counsel Adv. Hanvisha Menkara, describing everything he did for the family, how he was suffering now and reason for seeking more shares. The defense counsel Adv. Hanshilha pleaded that all the statements made by Mr. Manohar were partially true as he did not know about the problems faced by other siblings. Both the counsels made their prayer before Court.

ORDER BY THE HON'BLE COURT.

After considering the facts & circumstances, the hon'ble judge presiding over this matter suggested the parties to refer the matter to Mediation; as litigation may hamper the bond and sentiments between the brothers and sisters and cause any unpredictable issues. Both parties agreed to the same.

The honourable judge Lalitha Kumar ordered that the matter will be referred to Mediation and the mediators appointed are Ms. Mahiraa Shetty and Mr. Divraj Kumar.

As there was no objection from any party, the process continued.
